

The diagram illustrates the construction of a 100-point equidistant grid on the interval  $[0, 1]$ . The grid is divided into four segments of 25 points each. The segments are labeled with their respective point counts: 25, 25, 25, and 25. The total number of points is 100. The diagram shows the construction of the grid points and the corresponding intervals.