

Architectural drawing showing a section of a building with various levels and structural elements. The drawing includes a central core with a staircase and elevator shaft, and two wings. The drawing is annotated with various levels and structural elements.

Handwritten signature or initials.